

ANTI-NEW DEAL DEMOCRATS MEET TO PLAN CAMPAIGN

22-State Group in Detroit to Decide on Waging
Campaign

MAY FORM NEW PARTY

Some Advocate the Support
Of the Republican Ticket

DETROIT, Aug. 7.—Assembling in the Book-Cadillac Hotel today the foremost Constitutional Democrats from 22 States, headed by former U. S. Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, are to organize a nation-wide campaign against President Roosevelt and the New Deal. The momentous conference, marking the most important country-wide schism in the party since the regular Democrats rejected the Presidential candidacy of William Jennings Bryan on a radical program, started today. It will decide between these two major problems of attack upon the New Deal:

1.—Whether to place a ticket of Jeffersonian Democrats in the field to consolidate in "a pure, Democratic Party" the opposition to Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal.

2.—Whether to form a national organization of Constitutional Democrats who will support Governor Landau as a protest against Mr. Roosevelt's policies and then seek to revive the historic Democratic party along traditional lines when the New Deal is rejected.

The conference will last probably two days. Mr. Reed and Sterling E. Edmunds, of Michigan, sponsors of the conference, declared tonight they will refrain from impressing any plans of their own.

They will leave the conferees absolutely free, they said, to devise a national program and to sound the principles under which Constitutional Democrats everywhere may unite in their opposition to the New Deal.

Messrs. Reed, Edmunds and other prominent conferees on the scene were perfectly frank in declaring their determination to urge the American people to defeat Mr. Roosevelt and "his dangerous, unsound, experimental adventures which have delayed national recovery, retarded the return of prosperity, deprived our people of employment and threatened the American form of Government."

Mr. Reed, veteran gladiator of the national political arena, declared: "I want to do what I can to maintain the integrity of the American Constitution, the independence of the American courts and to stop the shameful waste of the substance of the American people."

Mr. Edmunds, active Democrat, who for 29 years was chairman of the department of international law at St. Louis University and who served in the State Department at Washington under President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing, declared:

"Stripped of all trimmings, the purpose of this conference is to defeat Roosevelt and the New Deal."

"Unless the policies of the New Deal are checked, there will be established at Washington a centralized Federal despotism ruinous to the traditional liberty of the American people."

Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of Philadelphia, twice the Democratic nominee for Governor of the Keystone State, declared:

"I oppose Roosevelt because I am a Democrat."

"I oppose the socialization and the national control of inherent rights of the States."

"Unless this system now prevalent at Washington under the New Deal is checked, the Republican or Democratic arm of Government as understood by the fathers of this nation will be at an end."

QUAKERTOWN TOLD TO CONSERVE WATER

Officials Ask Residents Not To Waste Supply During The Drought

BAN LAWN SPRINKLING

QUAKERTOWN, Aug. 7.—Officials of the Quakertown Water Department yesterday stated that the water supply is in danger and urged the residents here not to sprinkle their lawns.

C. William Freed announced that he wished to bring the matter to the attention of the community and that he asked everyone's co-operation in conserving the supply here by using water only when necessary and to refrain from sprinkling lawns.

"I hope," Mr. Freed stated, "that everyone will help in this danger that threatens our town and through wise conservation, avert it. I am sorry if anyone believes otherwise and warn everyone connected with the water company not to release any misinformation. It is too important."

"The deep wells are going down although the pumps are, of course, sending their streams into the reservoir, along the California road. The stand pipe in the center of town has its supply too, but we do not want to tap this until absolutely necessary."

Hancock Insurance Staff Enjoys Picnic

EDDINGTON, Aug. 7.—Ten Bristol members joined with more than 40 Philadelphia members of the 5th district of the John Hancock Insurance Company, to enjoy an all-day outing at the Columbus Country Club here yesterday.

The program which had been planned was shortened because of the rain, but the members did witness a ball game between the Germantown district, which was holding its outing at the Phila. Turners club, and the Phila. district team. The game, won by the 5th District team, was played at the Columbus Club park. Final score was 9 to 6.

Charles McCafferty was in charge of the Bristol group. Because of the rainy weather a number of indoor games were played in the evening. The scheduled foot races, and outdoor games, with the exception of the baseball game, were all postponed.

RUBBER STAMP WASTE

Electing Republicans Would Stop It

By Representative B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee

The election of a Republican Congress will put an end to the insane orgy of waste and spending which no country save ours has ever witnessed, and insure its sequence—a balanced budget.

The Seventy-fourth Congress, just adjourned, set an all-time record high for spending. Under the whiplash of an autocratic President, it appropriated more than 20 billion dollars, or 70 million dollars a day for each day Congress was in session.

The human mind cannot grasp the enormity of this tremendous sum. It is more than $150 for every man, woman and child in the United States, or stated another way, it equals $20 a minute for every minute since the birth of Christ. Such extravagance is almost criminal. It mortgages the life of every citizen and pawns the future of children yet unborn.

It is startling that the Seventy-fourth Congress spent more than the Seventy-third. We thus see increased expenditures from year to year under the New Deal. This, however, is a natural development as bureaucracy more firmly establishes itself.

While a Republican Congress will see that no citizen goes hungry or unclothed, it will stop these increasingly fantastic and profligate expenditures of the New Deal, the main purpose of which is to set up a permanent dictatorship by the bureaucrats in Washington.

This election will determine if our government will operate along constitutional lines and if the institutions under which we have flourished for 150 years shall be preserved. The New Deal Congress, under the domination of an autocratic President, abdicated its constitutional powers, with the result that a bureaucratic government is being established in America.

Unless a Republican Congress is returned this fall to recapture its constitutional duties and independence of action, this bureaucratic government will be made complete.

The abdication of power by the legislative body has been the forerunner of every dictatorship and of every communistic government. A rubber stamp Congress is the announcement of the moral collapse of the people.

TREE IN LAMBERTVILLE FATAL TO 'JAP' BEETLES

Identified as Buckeye Bottlebrush; Effective Where Poisons Fail

IS OVER 50 YEARS OLD

LAMBERTVILLE, Aug. 7.—Although an effective poison for Japanese beetles has not yet been found, there is a small tree in a Lambertville yard which proves fatal to each beetle that saps of its blossoms.

The tree, identified by representatives of the State Department of Agriculture as buckeye bottlebrush, grows in various parts of the country but is not often found farther north than here.

This is the third season that Nelson Rittenhouse, in whose yard the tree is growing, reports that the blossoms have proved fatal to Japanese beetles.

The tree is said to be more than fifty years old although it is not more than ten feet in height with wide spreading branches. Reports of the effects of its blossoms have apparently not been reported elsewhere and authorities are attempting to determine whether other trees of the same type are as effective.

One peculiar feature of the buckeye bottlebrush tree growing in Mr. Rittenhouse's yard is the fact that no other insects, including bees, that suck from its blossoms, are at all affected.

MORRISVILLE BANS ALL-NIGHT PARKING

Leaving Cars Along Street,
All Night, is Considered
Dangerous to Public

GIVE POLICE ORDERS

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 7.—Local police here have been instructed to wage a war on automobile owners who park their cars on the streets all night, in an effort to make it safer for motorists who drive in Morrisville after dark.

Because of the danger to motorists the cars, which are said to number more than a hundred, will have to be parked elsewhere. Many of the machines which stand on the streets all night are without any lights. A Borough ordinance prohibits parking all night, and it also prohibits parking without any lights.

Complaints have been coming to the local police from many quarters telling of the hazards involved in driving along the streets, especially when the parked cars are not in close to the curb. On many of the streets the trees block the street lights and the automobiles parked there are very hard to discern by the approaching motorist.

Chief of Police Albert Cooper, following instructions from Council, has informed his men to enforce the Borough Ordinance.

Mr. Hulme was the son of James Hulme, who was the owner of the famed Hulme and Hart Woolen Mills, of San Francisco, Cal., to which city the family went shortly after the gold rush. Mr. and Mrs. Hulme have two children, Howard Page Hulme, and Doris Lee Hulme.

Leftist Spanish Army Falls Back

Madrid, Aug. 7.—Under the machine gun fire and quick heavy moving of little bands of rebels in the Sierra Guadarrama, the Leftist Spanish army defending Madrid fell back from their strategic point on the north front today. Confirming the story, the government explained it was for "strategic reasons."

Most of the loyalist troops of the three day battle were lost when red militia men withdrew from the town of San Rafael.

Loyalists also withdrew some distance from the Somo Sierra pass, farther east. Cadiz remains in the hands of General Queipo De Llano's rebel troops according to the information, in spite of the government's claims of its capture.

Cutting off government communications between Vittoria and Bilbao, according to a rebel communique, issued at the headquarters in Burgos, the insurgents "routed a large force" and occupied a northern town of Ordono and Villa Real.

The loyalist government informed Madrid that the loyalists had captured the civil guards in the province of Huelva and also the civil guards at Badjoz, were also disarmed.

CORONER'S JURY, IN VERDICT, ORDERS LOCAL WOMAN HELD

Mrs. Louise Bell Returned To Bucks County Jail To Await Trial

MRS. BELL ON STAND

Claims Jesse Jones Shot Himself in Struggle for Shot Gun

Mrs. Louise Bell held on charges of involuntary manslaughter and murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Jesse Jones, 45, early on the morning of July 4th, was held for the verdict of a coroner's jury at the inquest held in the Municipal Building here yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Bell, who was accompanied by her brother, Fred VanSciver, listened to the verdict without a trace of excitement. She has been confined in the Bucks County jail since the shooting, after her arrest by Bucks County detective Anthony Russo. She was later brought back for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Edward Lynn, pleading not guilty, but she is held without bail for the criminal term of court.

The shooting of Jones took place between four and five o'clock a. m., July 4th, in the Jones bungalow. Jones died shortly after in the Harriman hospital and in one of the statements he gave police and hospital authorities he took all blame for the fatal wounding of himself, saying that he had shot himself. The tragedy occurred after Jones and Mrs. Bell, employed as his housekeeper, returned from a July 4th party at the nearby taproom of Louis Tullio, on Beaver street.

Dr. James P. Lawlor, deputy coroner of Bucks County, was the first witness called at the inquest yesterday.

He said he was called to the Harriman hospital and performed the autopsy, testifying that death was due to hemorrhages of the abdomen resulting from a suture wound caused by gun shot. A number of pellets of lead and wadding were removed from the wound.

Officer Ferry of the Bristol Police was the second witness called, and he said that he had been called to the hospital where Jones told him that he had killed himself. Later, Ferry and Linford Jones, chief of Bristol Police, went to the place of the shooting and found the house in a condition indicating a recent struggle.

Chief Jones was called to the stand and said that upon his arrival at the hospital the victim was "too far gone to talk." He told of his visit with Officer Ferry to Jones' home and discovering the single-barreled, pump action, shotgun lying on the floor. Chief Jones read a confession of Mrs. Bell's in which she stated that the gun went off during a struggle with Jesse Jones. The gun was exhibited yesterday, along with a torn jacket belonging to Mrs. Bell and a shirt belonging to Jesse Jones.

Detective Russo testified that he found the house where the accident occurred in a disarranged condition and he told of later arresting Mrs. Bell.

Mrs. Bell, the defendant, was the last witness called. She was much more composed than at the previous hearing before Justice Lynn. Dressed in a white linen suit, white pumps, white hat, and blue blouse, she seemed not to have a worry. She simply retold the story previously stated, claiming that Jones shot himself in the struggle for the gun. She testified that Jones had been drinking heavily and that upon their return from the taproom he struck her and knocked her to the floor. She said the gun was always kept in the room and that it was always loaded. Mrs. Bell testified that Jones had threatened her life on numerous occasions and had also threatened to take his own life.

Bucks County Coroner H. Clayton Moyer presided at the inquest. The jury members were: Charles G. Rathke, foreman; John Y. Turner, Thomas A. Coles, Paul D. Brown, Clarence S. Young, and Walter Albright.

WHY FRANCE WORRIES

France feels that she already has too many dictators among her neighbors. Hitler and Mussolini provide more than enough in the way of international mischief-making. France does not want another dictator on her southern border.

That accounts for the French Radical-Socialist suggestion that a three-power commission, representing France, Great Britain and Italy, attempt to compose the Spanish civil war. It accounts also for the French Leftist demand that the Spanish government be permitted to buy airplanes, arms and ammunition in France. Weight is added to this demand by crash of one Italian plane at sea and the forced landing of another in French Morocco, both reputedly while carrying munitions to the Spanish Fascist rebels.

Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos has said that the Blum ministry's course on arms shipments to Spain "depends on what other nations do." The incidents of the two Italian planes followed earlier reports of shipments of planes and other war supplies to the Spanish Fascists, not only from Italy, but also from Germany.

Great Britain already has indicated anxiety over Italian and German support of the Spanish revolutionists and over prospective territorial rewards on which Mussolini and Hitler have their eyes fixed. Britain, naturally, is a bit worried about Gibraltar. But France has more than Gibraltar to worry about. A Spanish Fascist government, working in close harmony with Berlin and Rome, would mean virtual hemming in of France by unfriendly dictatorships.

There seems more than a bare possibility that the Spanish civil war will act to align the major European powers more sharply in two camps: democracies vs. dictatorships.

DEADEN THE BALL!

Jack Leivelt, manager of the Cubs' Los Angeles farm, has finished a tour of the 16 major league teams in a dark frame of mind. "I have never seen so many minor leaguers," says Jack. "They are majors in name only." Insofar as this includes pitchers, he is supported in his view by Joe McCarthy of the Yankees.

Manager McCarthy sees no difference in the baseball now in use, but does in the pitching.

Rogers Hornsby of the Browns thinks the lively ball is making a travesty of the game and asks for one with less bounce.

Since this is the way things are, a debate over what causes it would seem less to the point than doing something to deaden the ball. Twelve runs in an inning and 25 hits in nine are a few too many, even for gluttons among the fans. When baseball begins to guy itself it can no longer command the respect and interest of the fan. The so-called pitchers' battle is not one of sport's great spectacles, but also it is no burlesque. Many prefer it to the shambles put on this year in the name of the national game.

Everyone knows about it when the weatherman lets things get out of control.

What this country probably needs is a barbecue stand with "barbecue" spelled right.

Austria at this writing seemed by no means convinced that an ottocracy would be the best thing.

PLAN THE WARDROBE RIGHT; THEN TRAVEL WILL BE LIGHTENED

By RHANDENA A. ARMSTRONG
Home Economics Representative

"All aboard for a vacation!" When? Where? How? It may be in August or September. It may be into another state or another country. It may be by automobile, bus, train, air, or boat. But whenever, wherever, or however you go, the clothing you take with you and the way in which you pack it may either help to make your trip a success, or completely spoil it.

There is a knack in being able to travel comfortably and yet be "presentable" at all times. Experienced travelers may be identified by their conservative but smart costumes. Simple dresses or tailored suits of dark, non-crushable materials are a good choice. For late summer travel, cool, dark eyelets, seersuckers, knitted fabrics, Bemberg sheers, nets and laces are most appropriate for comfort. None of these fabrics muss easily and if they should become creased in packing, the wrinkles usually "hang out" in a short time.

Accessories should be inconspicuous, but capable of giving an air of distinction. Expensive jewelry should never appear with traveling clothes. Fairly small hats free from fussy trimmings should be worn. Convenient for traveling are the new collapsible fabric hats with brims which may be laid flat in a suitcase or the soft felts which may be rolled and tucked into limited spaces. Comfortable shoes, which are not easily soiled, and gloves, suitable both in style and color for street wear, complete the costume and make it possible for you to arrive at your destination appearing as well groomed as you were when you left home.

Garments should be chosen that will harmonize with one key color so that the same accessories may be used with all. This will enable you to dress appropriately for every occasion with the least amount of expenditure and will save time and energy on many occasions. A wise selection will eliminate carrying extra bags for such clumsy articles of clothing as shoes, hats or coats. Bright accessories with thin, dark clothes will look both cool and smart.

A generous supply of handkerchiefs, hose and gloves is a necessity. A box of soft tissues stowed away in the car, or several tucked into your purse, keeps the handkerchief supply from running low when you are traveling in hot weather or in dusty places. Underwear which can be washed and dried overnight and needs no pressing is indispensable. Always try to eliminate garments which need pressing, for very often, when traveling, you will find no accommodations for work of this kind and besides, it can be entirely avoided with a little forethought and planning before packing.

WENONAH NINE TO MEET LANDRETH SEEDS SUNDAY

On Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock, the baseball club representing Wenonah, N. J., will play Landreth's Seeds at the Landreth Ball Park.

Last year the "farmers" had a game scheduled with Wenonah at Wenonah but it was rained out and this is the first opportunity the two clubs have had to get together. Wenonah is reported to have a very strong club, at least if it is anywhere near as strong as last year the game on Sunday should be a very interesting one. The "farmers" last Sunday put up a very ragged game but it is hoped they have gotten all the bad playing out of their system, and after the game tonight with Stonehurst Hills at Stonehurst Hills the local should be in good shape to take over the Wenonah Club Sunday.

Next Wednesday evening at 6.15 Landreth's will play Johnson's Colored Stars from Atlantic City, N. J. The last time these teams met at the seaside resort, the "farmers" were beaten but Wednesday night they will be out for revenge. Johnson's Colored Stars have as usual a very fast club this season and it is expected there will be a good crowd out to see the game Wednesday night.

LAWRENCE, TENNIS ACE, TO PLAY IN FINAL MATCH

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 7.—By reason of a decisive victory in the semi-finals in the Trenton singles championship matches, Herb Lawrence, Bristol's tennis ace, has won the right to play in the final match for the Trenton city championship.

Lawrence became one of the finalists after his victory over Bob Boyd. He will play Steve Kramer, who defeated Frank Blank, to become the other finalist, this Saturday afternoon at 2.30 on the Cadwalader Park Courts.

A session of brilliant tennis was employed by both Lawrence and Kramer in their respective matches. The Bristol ace kept Boyd on the run during the entire match. Boyd, the city champion of 1934 showed up well for the first two sets, but the continued bullet drives of Lawrence wore him down so that as the match reached the third set Boyd was reaching the ball fractions late. As a result his returns lost their power and when the drives were returned Lawrence drove them back for points in a consistent manner.

The results in the semi-finals: Herb Lawrence defeated Bob Boyd, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2. Steve Kramer defeated Frank Blank, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

Final round: Saturday, 2.30 p. m. Herb Lawrence vs. Steve Kramer.

SPORT SHOTS by Maxwell Gordon

Bowlers and those interested in this sport have to thank Herbert Yates for much of the success of organized bowling in Bristol. . . . It was through this man's untiring effort that the Bristol Bowling Association has been able to function successfully for the past eleven years. . . . With vision, Yates, Carl Wenzel and Joe Amison foresaw the wisdom of establishing alleys here and operating bowling leagues with a fair minimum of success. . . . so this trio prevailed upon Mr. Curtis of Trenton to install an up-to-date establishment on Farragut avenue where four bowling leagues were organized.

The success of this venture has proven to many that Bristol will support such a place. . . . Now starting on the twelfth year the new Recreation Center under the able ownership of Francis J. O'Boyle, will launch another season with four flourishing leagues with possibilities of sending three teams to represent Bristol in the American Bowling Congress annual championship tournaments to be held in New York City this winter.

Bill Fine, former Bristol favorite, is having a great season pitching for "Frood" in the Nettle Belt Baseball League at Sudbury, Ontario, Canada. . . . "Tickler" has won his last four games by great mound work and timely hitting. . . . Larry David, another former Twilight League star, is playing shortstop for "Sorel" in the Quebec Provincial League, with a batting average of .301. . . . "Sorel" won the first half and are leading in the second half by a comfortable margin.

Clarence Winter is on the annual cruise of the Delaware River Yacht Clubs with his cabin cruiser in the Chesapeake Bay.

What-a-man Jesse Owens, the great Ohio State athlete, seems to have stolen the show completely over in Berlin. . . . It's too bad they couldn't give him the berth vacated by Eleanor Holm Jarrett in the backstroke swimming event. . . . He seems to be a one-man Olympic team all by himself.

TWO TEAMS NOW OUT OF DELAWARE RIVER LEAGUE

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 7.—Hulmeville A. A., last season's champions of the Delaware River League, was voted out of the circuit last night at a meeting of the managers in the office of Justice of Peace Neal Nolan, Dolington, last year's runner-up, dropped from the loop, refusing to play the remaining scheduled games.

Both Hulmeville and Dolington made poor showings in the Delri League this season, Hulmeville winning but three games the first half and losing ten, the second. Three games were forfeited by the Blackmen in the second half, Dolington finished third the first half and according to the league rules forfeited both of their scheduled games last week-end.

The second half schedule will continue with four teams, Morrisville, Newtown, Bordentown and Lambertville. For the week-end schedule, Lambertville will go to Bordentown, Saturday and Sunday, Newtown goes to Morrisville.

Organized Killings, Murders In Spain

Northern Rebel Army Headquarters, Burgos, Spain, Aug. 7.—Organized killings at the front and systematic murder behind the lines continued throughout Spain today, as this unhappy country neared an end of the third week of its civil war.

Four thousand so far is considered here to be a conservative estimate of the losses on both sides, which averaged at the lowest figures, two hundred daily. The ferocity of the struggle increases as each side seeks revenge and by the time the white armies reach Madrid their desire will be to end the war by complete extermination of the enemy.

Official announcement of executions reveal, as in all wars, but particularly in this one, only a fraction of the actual shooting.

The white government announced it has condemned and shot Rear Admiral Azrola Cadia for aiding the reds. At Hulva, a coastal city near Guadarrama, recently taken by the whites, the former governor chief of the civil guard and chief of the Carabineros have also been officially executed.

Women are playing such a role in this conflict that it might be called a war of sister against sister. Two hundred women reds in the Guadalajara are helping their men burn and sack when they capture the cities, according to white reports, while from this side comes an announcement that a "group of young ladies" have joined a body of Fascists marching against Madrid.

RATES U. S. RACE STARS WITH BEST

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(INS)—Major George Robertson, team manager and strategic chief for Jimmy Murphy, when the Los Angeles dare-devil, won the French Grand Prix at Le Mans in 1921, believes American speedway drivers will hold their own against European road stars in the 400-mile road race at Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island October 12.

With $100,000 in prizes at stake, the event is attracting most of Europe's road-racing champions, officials said, but Major Robertson, familiar with driving on both continents, regards the American entrants as the equal of any.

"Jimmy Murphy," the major explained, "was a speedway driver fully as much as Lou Meyer, Kelly Petillo or any other of our present-day American stars, but he won from Europe's best on their own road."

"Murphy, Joe Boyer and Henry Du-bonnet composed the American team on that 1921 expedition. The boys had only three weeks in which to absorb their training in that winding course through the French countryside and villages at Le Mans. But they picked it up fast, especially Murphy. He had one accident in training, smashed three or four ribs and drove the race, laced up like a plump matron of the early nineties."

"But the three weeks of practice did the trick and the American Dusenburg he drove stood up under the tests of acceleration, deceleration, braking and all the other phases of road racing, which speedway driving does not call for and which will be necessary at Roosevelt Raceway."

"New American cars are being built for the Roosevelt Raceway event and the drivers are studying the course. Lou Meyer and Wild Bill Cummings have seen the course in construction and neither is willing to concede a thing to the Europeans, although they admit this will be the stiffest test of driving they have ever tried."

"But personally, I don't believe our drivers have to concede the invaders a thing. I think some of our stars who stand the gaff every year at Indianapolis are among the greatest in the world and that they'll prove it on the road course as well as the speedway."
